GRANDVIEW GOLF CLUB - #1 (PAR 4)

The 1st Hole at Grandview is a classic opening Par 4 to shake the nerves and start your round with a Birdie or Par. Aim your tee shot at the 150 yard marker of this generous fairway, but don't cut off too much down the right or turn an easy Par into a bogey or worse!

GREEN DEPTH = 27

GRANDVIEW GOLF CLUB - #2 (PAR 5)

This Par 5 is a Birdie opportunity. Aim your tee shot down the left side of the fairway, but be aware of the hazard lurking left of the fairway. Then place your 2nd down the right side of the lay-up area for the best angle on your approach. Hit 1 extra club to the green, as the shot plays 15 yards longer uphill!

This great medium-length Par 3 offers another good birdie chance where the green feeds the ball left to right. If you miss the green, a Par save is easier if you left yourself green to work with. Look at the Pin Position and play your shot wisely!

Pick either side of this split fairway on this short Par 4. The left side offers a better angle to the long narrow green with the right side usually getting extra distance off the tee. Avoid the blind fairway bunker in the centre of the fairway 140 yards from the green. A Par here is a good score!

Another good Birdie chance on this reachable Par 5. Aim your tee shot down the middle and make your decision on going for the green. If laying up, a blind pond lurks short of the green, so you need to play your layup down the right edge. No matter how you decide to play this hole, Birdie is a possibility!

On this difficult and demanding Par 4, aim your tee shot at the 150 yard marker. If you navigate the tee shot, make sure to hit enough club on your approach to carry the deep bunker protecting the green. Par is a great score, but a Bogey will not give up shots to the field!

As the shortest hole at Grandview, this Par 3 will still demand an accurate tee shot, as the green is split into 3 tiers by various ridges. Birdie is very possible if you hit the correct tier, but a 3-putt bogey is just as possible if you found the wrong tier.

This lengthy sharp dogleg right Par 5 will require 3 good shots to ensure your Par. With a wide landing area off the tee, you can carry the cart path for extra yards, leaving a better angle and easier lay-up. You can choose to lay-up to 150 for a wider fairway or risk the 100 yard marker for the best look at the green. Relief comes on the green with a relatively flat surface where putts can be made from anywhere!
